EVIDENCE OF A FOUL MURDER

Robert McChesney's Hair and Face Show No Signs of Powder Burns and Authorities Are Puzzled—No Inquest Held and Relatives Call For an Investigation.

Following the removal of the body of Robert McChesney, the alleged suicide, from the Lindquist morgue to the home of Mrs. Lillibelle Frey, on Parry avenue today, before the funeral, the friends and relatives of the dead man pointed out to the police evidence, that it is claimed, point to murder instead of suicide.

It is shown that while McChesney was a right handed man, the wound was over the left ear; that while the gun was a 41-calibre, the flash of which would extend four feet, there is not a sign of powder burns on the hair or face. It is also claimed that the wound is too small for a revolver of the kind found near the body early Wednesday morning.

When these suspicions were pointed out to Acting Chief of Police Chas.
Pincock, he at once had Sergeant C.
E. Layne go to the home of Mrs. Frey to examine the body.

The report of the sergeant coincides with that of the relatives, except that the sergeant declares the wound is of the size that would have been made with the revolver owned and found by the side of McChesney. The sergeant found no trace of powder burns, although the bullets left in the revolver contain black powder stains. He is also puzzled over the wound being found on the left side of the head which would indicate that the gun was held in the left hand contrary to the custom of McChesney, whose righthandedness is known to scores of those acquainted with him.

The circumstances of his death, too, are claimed to be suspicious. The shooting occurred early in the morning and no one saw him do the shooting. Mrs. McChesney, after a restless night, had dropped off to sleep and did not awaken until she heard the shot. She groped her way to the body through the darkness and smoke caused by the explosion to find her husband dying.

Although no enemy of McChesney is known, the man may have incurred enmity during his time spent as a picket for the strikers.

Mrs. Frey believes that the alleged suicide should have been investigated and that an inquest should have been held.

When Sergeant H. C. Peterson, Patrolman R. D. Pincock and Dr. E. P.
Mills had reached the home of the McChesneys, Ex-officio Coroner W. H.
Reeder was notified of the affair and he directed them to telephone to County Attorney David Jensen, who is the official to request an inquest.

Evidently the statements of the witnesses pointed so directly to suicide that the county attorney did not consider the facts justified the holding of an investigation. The statutes state that the county attorney must give a written order for the holding of an inquest.

The police are puzzled that the underwriter did not call attention to the absence of powder burns or singeing of the hair, although many who viewed the body remarked concerning the absence of such. The man had visited the barber shop on the day before the shooting and his hair was newly cut.

A sad incident occurred today in connection with the tragedy. Without knowledge of the sad affair, the mother of Mrs. Frey arrived in Ogden for a visit with her daughter. Likewise the mother and father of Mrs.
McChesney arrived in Ogden, not knowing of the death.

The shooting scrape at the Carnival grounds on Thursday evening was rehearsed in Judge W. H. Reeder's court this morning. William Bramwell was charged with disturbing the peace and George Allen had a complaint of carrying concealed weapons against him.

Both pleaded guilty.

In explaining their actions on that night, the judge had them stick to the events as they transpired at the grounds and the stories of the two differed materially.

Bramwell claimed that he sought to speak with Allen upon a subject of interest to both and Allen refused, at the same time moving his hand toward his hip pocket. Bramwell declared he thought Allen had a gun so he attacked him, striking Allen twice before the gun was discharged and others had rushed in to separate the two.

Allen claimed he was walking in the grounds when he was struck by Bramwell without provocation and that he pulled the gun and shot.
Growing warm, as he related the incident, Allen declared that, had he not been down on the ground, he would have put a bullet into Bramwell.

Judge Reeder will pass sentence on Monday morning.

RUSHING WORK ON THE NEW BUILDINGS

Manager W. A. Larkins of the Dinwiddie Construction company states that he expects to build a story a week of the Kiesel building, beginning next week. He will use a large force of men, and, as fast as possible he will place carpenters, plumbers and others on interior construction.
Material that is not on hand will be here in the course of a few days.
Brick masons will be placed on the first story walls within the next few days.

Speaking of the Eccles steel building, Mr. Larkins says that it will be about ten days before the steel men will get to work. The meantime, the pit of the old structure will be cleared and leveled to enable the steel work to proceed. The concrete floor in the basement cannot be laid until after steel construction begins.

this afternoon and evening and until time of funeral tomorrow. The body will be shipped to Lorenzo, Idaho, at 9:20 a. m. Monday for interment.

ASKING FOR A REDUCTION OF TAXES

Deputy Clerk L. A. VanDyke states that during the week the board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, has attended to about 150 complaints from taxpayers, most of them being in the form of requests for tax remittances. Many widows, and others claiming they were not able to pay their taxes, have appeared before the board.

Mr. VanDyke states that there are some people in the county who think that because their taxes were remitted last year, they will be remitted this year whether they appear before the board or not. This, he says, is a mistake. No taxes will be remitted unless the parties appear before the board in person and explain their circumstances.

ESCAPES FROM THE STATE SCHOOL

While on detail duty with three other boys, Weir Reed of Salt Lake made his escape from the State Industrial school at about 10 o'clock this morning and no trace of him has been found.

A reward of $10 is offered for the lad. He is 17 years old, weighs about 130 pounds, 5 1/2 in height, dark complexion and wears brown overalls and shirt.

Yesterday afternoon Parole Officer E. M. Rowe returned from Pueblo, Colo., with Thomas Brinager, who made his escape from the school a number of weeks ago. The boy was traced to Colorado by a detective agency. The lad formerly lived in the vicinity of Pueblo.

It will be recalled that Brinager sawed his way out of the school and made it possible for other boys to escape at that time. The other boys were captured.

BOOSTERS ARE EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON

Carrying with them grips filled with publicity material, products of their city in boxes and bottles, and also taking along a publicity man and a correspondent, 20 leading citizens of Richmond, Cal., including T. J. Hulanski, editor of the Richmond Leader and a brother of Captain Hulaniski of this city, arrived in Ogden at 12:45 p. m. today in a special Pullman attached to the Pacific Limited. The party is enroute to Washington, to show congress why $1,000,000 should be appropriated for the improvement of the harbor at Richmond when the citizens have already voted over a million dollars toward that object.

While securing the appropriation from congress constitute the main object of the trip, the members of the party are all boosters and let no opportunity go by to boost their city.
In the party are J. C. Owens, mayor of the city; D. N. McLaughlin, who has been named for the governor of California; Sheriff R. N. Veale, Colonel Thomas H. Rees, chief of the engineers for the United States on the Pacific coast; and P. A. Harland, engineer in charge of the harbor work.

Although the party was in the city but a few minutes, the members found time to pass out several cigars and inform those whom they met that Richmond is a most flourishing city, that it is the home of the largest winery in the world, that the Pullman western shops are located in the city, that in 1901 the population was only 100 while in 1913 it is 17,000.

Several cases of the finest California wine are stored away in the car to give out as samples along the road.

The members of the party report a most enjoyable trip and look for a successful outcome of their plans for an appropriation.

DELAY ON THE TABERNACLE PARK

The Tabernacle square committee state that there is considerable uncertainty as to when the church square will be parked. Hundreds of loads of earth will have to be placed on the ground to raise certain parts to the required grade, after which the leveling will have to be done.

Mr. Bluth of the committee states that it will require a number of weeks to level the grounds and get them ready for parking and that there is nothing definite as to when Mr. Doyle, the contractor, will do the work.

It is hoped, however, by the committee that the place may be placed in readiness for parking the late summer. The delay occasioned now is in not having the grounds at proper grade and leveled. Men to do the parking have been engaged and they will begin as soon as the ground is in shape.

country.

The regular schedule will be given over the car line to the canyon tomorrow—one hour service to 10 o'clock in the morning, 40 minutes to 1 p. m., and 30 minutes thereafter.

The ball grounds are ready and the rooms of the new Hermitage club have been furnished. The club rooms are situated in the basement of the Hermitage hotel, on the hill.

FLOWER DAY IS WELL OBSERVED

Mrs. Martha E. May, who for five years has been superintendent of the floral mission of the W. C. T. U., has resigned her post as she is about to leave for California. During her term of office, hundreds of the sick and unfortunate have been brightened by the work of the flower bearers.

The W. C. T. U. observed "Flower day" yesterday and many of the members assisted in distributing bouquets to the hospitals, the jails and the homes where invalids or the sick are lying.

At the home of Mrs. T. A. Seipp, at Twenty-third street and Jackson avenue, 375 bouquets were waiting for the workers. These were divided among the members reporting and the work of visiting the hospitals, jails and homes began.
